4 EAT

PAGES 34–35

choice /tʃɔɪs/ Noun if there is a choice, you can choose between different things

Collocates: a choice of something | have no choice the food is OK, but there isn't much choice | there's a choice of three desserts | it wouldn't be my first choice of hotels (not the one I prefer) | all the other tables were reserved so we had no choice

Verb: choose

I think you chose an excellent film | have you chosen what dish you're going to order?

complain /kəmˈpleɪn/ Verb if you complain about something, you say that there is something wrong and that you are not satisfied with it

Collocates: complain about something | complain to someone | complain that when I complained, the waiter was quite rude | you should complain to the manager | I complained because my food was cold | customers complained that the prices were too high

Noun: complaint

Collocates: make a complaint there have been a lot of complaints about noise coming from the club | I'd like to make a complaint (to complain about something) cookery /ˈkʊk(ə)ri/ Noun uncount cookery is the activity of preparing and cooking food

Collocates: a cookery programme | a cookery class

I don't really like cookery programmes | a cookery book | he opened a cookery school in Cirencester delicious /dɪˈlɪʃəs/ Adjective food that is delicious tastes or smells very nice the dessert was delicious | that was a delicious meal | thank you – that was delicious | a delicious smell of chocolate cake was coming from the kitchen disgusting /dɪsˈgʌstɪŋ/ Adjective something that is disgusting is horrible and makes you feel sick the food was disgusting | what's that disgusting smell? | that fish smells disgusting | smoking is a disgusting habit | that's the most disgusting thing I've ever heard grilled /grɪld/ Adjective grilled food has been cooked under very strong heat we had some amazing grilled meat last night | do you want your steak fried or grilled? | grilled food is healthier for you than fried food

Verb: grill | Noun: grill

I prefer to grill my burgers | put them under the grill for a few minutes option /ˈɒpʃ(ə)n/ Noun an option is something that you can choose they don't have any vegetarian options | there are several different options | we have two options – we can walk or go by bus | this looks like the best option | let's just go for the cheapest option | his only option was to have an operation

Adjective: optional

voting is optional (you don't have to vote if you don't want to) | a digital radio is an optional extra (you don't have to have it) portion /ˈpɔː(r)ʃ(ə)n/ Noun a portion of food is an amount that is served to one person at a meal

Collocates: a portion of something it was quite expensive and the portions were very small | the portions there are very generous | you need two slices of chicken per portion | I ordered a sandwich and a portion of chips programme /ˈprəʊgræm/ Noun a programme is an individual broadcast on radio or television

I don't really like cookery programmes | there was a really interesting programme on BBC1 last night | she makes documentary programmes for the radio | there are lots of TV programmes about cooking properly /ˈprɒpə(r)li/ Adverb if you do something properly, you do it well or in the correct way the fish wasn't cooked properly | my phone isn't working properly | in judo, you need to know how to fall properly | the machine isn't working properly | he's not properly trained

Adjective: proper

he's a proper cook – he works in a very good restaurant recipe /ˈresəpi/ Noun a recipe is a set of instructions for making a particular dish

Collocates: a recipe for something | follow a recipe have you ever tried any of Jamie Oliver's recipes? | this pie is delicious – you must give me the recipe | I didn't follow the recipe properly, and it came out all soft on the outside | I get all my recipes online now | a recipe for tomato soup rude /ruːd/ Adjective if someone is rude, they speak or behave in a way that is not polite and which might upset people when I complained, the waiter was quite rude | I'm sorry – I didn't mean to be rude | they are such rude children | he was extremely rude to his aunt | the man who answered the phone was incredibly rude | it's rude to point at people

© 2016 National Geographic Learning

Adverb: rudely

he pushed past her rudely and took the last seat seat /siːt/ Noun a seat is a chair, or a place to sit the restaurant often gets busy, so you have to wait for a seat | there's a spare seat over there | all the seats on the train were reserved | the back seat of a car (behind where the driver sits) | I've got a seat on the last plane out of Glasgow tonight | I asked for a seat facing the direction of travel terrace /ˈterəs/ Noun a terrace is an area just outside a building or room where you can sit you can have dinner on the terrace | the restaurant has a terrace with a great view over the sea | we sat out on the terrace | a roof terrace

Pages 36–37

bean /biːn/ Noun beans are the seeds of some plants that are eaten as food. Some beans are dried so that they will keep for a long time it's a lovely dish of fried rice and black beans | a tin of baked beans | I grow beans in my garden | boil the beans for three minutes

bill /bɪl/ Noun a bill is a list which shows you how much you have to pay for something that you have received

Collocates: pay a bill could we have the bill please? | I forgot to pay the electricity bill | they sent me a bill for £300 | our gas bills are now paperless (they come by email and are not sent to us through the post) | the restaurant made a mistake with the bill bitter /ˈbɪtə(r)/ Adjective something that is bitter has a strong taste that is the opposite of sweet if it's too bitter, add some sugar | they taste quite bitter | it had a horrible, bitter taste | each dish will be either sweet, sour, salty or bitter book /bʊk/ Verb

if you book something, you arrange to have it or use it at a particular time in the future

Collocates: book a table/seat/ticket

I'd like to book a table for four | you can book your tickets by phone or online | the restaurant gets busy, so you need to book in advance | Monday is a quiet night, so there's no need to book | it's a busy train so I suggest you book a seat

Noun: booking

Collocates: make a booking can I make a booking for next Saturday, please? | do you have a booking, sir?

cloth /klɒθ/ Noun a cloth is a small piece of material that you use for cleaning things could we have a cloth, please? | wipe the table with a damp cloth (one that is slightly wet)

contain /kənˈteɪn/ Verb to contain something means to have it inside does the dish contain meat? | all our desserts may contain nuts | the box contained my old wedding dress | the book contains a large number of photographs

Noun: container

fill the container with sand | keep your pasta in a plastic container dessert /dɪˈzɜː(r)t/ Noun a dessert is a dish of sweet food that you eat at the end of a meal

I never eat desserts | would you like to see the dessert menu? | what's for dessert? | all the desserts were delicious get past /ˌget ˈpɑːst/ Phrasal verb if you want to get past, you want to go from one side of something to the other, and there is not very much space for you to go through could you move your chair a little so I can get past? | do you want me to move, or can you get past? | there was a car in the way and I couldn't get past herb /hɜː(r)b/ Noun a herb is a plant with leaves that are used to add flavour to food mint is an easy herb to grow in your garden | add some chopped herbs before you serve it | use fresh herbs if you can get them | a jar of mixed, dried herbs

jug /dʒʌg/ Noun
a jug is a container for holding and pouring liquids Collocates: a jug of something could we have a jug of tap water please? | she put a jug of milk on the table | I dropped the jug and it broke on the floor | a beautifully decorated jug leg /leg/ Noun a leg is an animal's leg that is eaten as food a roast leg of lamb | to serve four, you need two chicken legs mild /maɪld/ Adjective food that is mild does not have a strong taste this fish has a rather mild taste | I prefer mild cheese | I asked for a hot curry, but it's actually rather mild offer /ˈɒfə(r)/ Noun if you offer someone something, you ask them if they would like it and tell them they can have it if they want it. When you say something like this, you are making an offer

Collocates: accept an offer | make an offer | an offer of something when you are making a polite offer, you should say "Would you like" rather than "Do you want" | I accepted her offer of a lift to the station | he refused their offer of lunch | a job offer | thank you for your offer of help

Verb: offer

© 2016 National Geographic Learning

Collocates: offer to do something | offer something to someone | offer someone something can I offer you a cup of tea? | he offered to show us round the city | will you take the job if they offer it to you?

order /ˈɔː(r)də(r)/ Verb when you order in a restaurant, you tell the waiter what you want to eat and drink are you ready to order? | I can't decide what to order | Pete ordered another bottle of water | I ordered fish for my main course

Noun: order

we'd been waiting an hour and our order still hadn't arrived raw /rɔː/ Adjective raw food has not been cooked a dish made with raw fish | you can eat them cooked or raw | a glass of milk with a raw egg in it | you can eat raw beef, but raw chicken will make you seriously ill ready /ˈredi/ Adjective if you are ready to do something, you are prepared and able to do it immediately Collocates: be ready to do something are you ready to order? | at the age of 16, I was ready to leave home | he was still getting ready when the taxi arrived | aren't you ready yet?

reasonable /ˈriːz(ə)nəb(ə)l/ Adjective if you think the price of something is reasonable, you think it is not too expensive and is good value for money the bill was very reasonable | the prices here are quite reasonable | I think £20 for a day at the cricket is reasonable | it's difficult to get a good meal for a reasonable price near the station

Adverb: reasonably

Collocates: reasonably priced the evening meal was tasty and reasonably priced | at £60 a night, it's a reasonably priced hotel request /rɪˈkwest/ Noun if you make a request, you ask someone in a polite way if they will do something Collocates: a request for something it wasn't an order, just a polite request | I made a request for some information about the election | he knew her request was reasonable

Verb: request the pilot requested permission to land roast /rəʊst/ Adjective if you roast food, you cook it in an oven, usually adding some fat to it. Food that is cooked in this way is roast or roasted, for example roast chicken or roasted vegetables you can have roast, boiled, or fried potatoes | a roast leg of lamb | the roasted peppers were still too hot to eat

Verb: roast

put the chicken in the oven and roast it for two hours salty /ˈsɔːlti/ Adjective food that is salty has a strong taste of salt the meat was too salty | it's nice, but it's quite salty | eating salty food is not good for you seafood /ˈsiːˌfuːd/ Noun uncount seafood is fish and other animals from the sea that you can eat there's a seafood restaurant on the beach | I don't really like seafood—I prefer meat | I had an amazing seafood dish there | they serve seafood in the evenings | enjoy fresh, delicious seafood in our three-star restaurant seed /siːd/ Noun a seed is a small part of a plant that grows into a new plant when it is in the ground. Some seeds can be eaten as food

I bought some seeds to grow herbs in my kitchen | leave the seeds in warm water overnight before planting them | you could add sunflower seeds to your breakfast cereal shell /ʃel/ Noun a shell is the hard part on the outside of some sea animals they're a kind of seafood with a big shell | you cook them in their shells | we spent the morning looking for shells on the beach skin /skɪn/ Noun the skin on a fruit or vegetable is the part on the outside it's a kind of green fruit with a very thick skin | I eat apples with the skin on | take the skin off the onion before you chop it (cut it into small pieces) | let the potatoes cool down before you peel the skin off (take the skin off with a knife)

soft /sɒft/ Adjective something that is soft is not hard and changes shape easily when you press it they're quite soft on the inside | the fruit should be soft and sweet | cook the potatoes until they are soft | a lovely soft pillow spicy /ˈspaɪsi/ Adjective spicy food has a strong flavour because it is cooked with special seeds or powders called spices it was served with a spicy sauce | it wasn't spicy enough for me | I find Indian food too spicy

Noun: spice

I love to cook with herbs and spices | the shop on the corner sells excellent spices stone /stəʊn/ Noun the stone in a fruit is the very hard part in the middle that you don't eat it's a green fruit with a very big stone in the middle | cut the fruit in half and remove the stone suggestion /səˈdʒestʃ(ə)n/ Noun if you make a suggestion, you describe a plan or possibility for someone to consider Collocates: make a suggestion can I make a suggestion? | I agree with Malcolm's suggestion, that we should go to the museum | does

© 2016 National Geographic Learning

anyone have any suggestions for a good hotel in Brighton? | as always, your suggestions are welcome | encourage your students to offer suggestions for solving the problems

Verb: suggest

I suggest we give up and go home | can anyone suggest an answer to our problem?

sweet /swiːt/ Adjective food that is sweet tastes as if there is a lot of sugar in it kids eat too many sweet things these days | what you need is a cup of hot, sweet tea | these oranges are really sweet

tap /tæp/ Noun a tap is an object that controls the flow of water, for example into a sink or bath. If you drink tap water, you drink water that has come from a tap and not from a bottle

Collocates: turn a tap on/off | a hot/cold tap could we have a jug of tap water please? | the bathroom had gold-coloured taps | the cold tap was stuck (the tap that sends out cold water) | turn the hot tap off if the water gets too hot thick /θɪk/ Adjective something that is thick is not thin some oranges have a very thick skin | a thick slice of bread | I bought this nice thick coat for the winter | a pair of thick socks | a thick book | the walls are very thick | she's got lovely thick hair

tip /tɪp/ Noun a tip is an extra amount of money that you give when you pay for a meal in a restaurant or for a service that you have had

Collocates: leave a tip shall we leave a tip, or is the service included? | we left a generous tip (a large amount of money) | most hairdressers rely on tips because their pay is very low | taxi drivers in Japan don't expect a tip

Verb: tip

it's usual to tip the waiter | should you tip the porter at the hotel?

Pages 38–39

blood /blʌd/ Noun uncount blood is the red liquid that carries oxygen around your body, and which is pumped by your heart black pudding is a sausage made with blood | he lost a lot of blood after the accident | I can't stand the sight of blood | there were blood stains on the carpet concerned /kənˈsɜː(r)nd/ Adjective if you are concerned about something, it is important to you and you think about it seriously or worry about it

Collocates: be concerned about something people are becoming more concerned about their health | she was very concerned about her son's exam results | concerned members of the public asked for a meeting with the police | there's no need for you to be concerned; I'll be fine

Noun: concern

Collocates: express concern | cause concern | a main concern lots of people have expressed concern about the matter | the bad weather is causing concern among farmers| my main concern is finding the money for Paul's university fees consist /kənˈsɪst/ Verb if something consists of different things, it is made of those things Collocates: consist of something the dish consists of eggs and lemon juice with a lot of sugar | each team consists of five players | the national flag consists of just two stripes | the collection consisted of over 300 original paintings | the committee consisted of seven elected members

PREPOSITIONS

Many words commonly go with prepositions.

consist of water, sugar and fruit experiment with different ingredients we're still open to suggestions she was very concerned about her son's exam results

Notice any prepositions when you learn words and expressions. There are exercises at the end of each unit in the Vocabulary Builder that test you on prepositions.

experiment /ɪkˈsperɪˌment/ Verb if you experiment, you try new and different things Collocates: experiment with something they wouldn't experiment with anything new at breakfast | I began to experiment with different paint colours | let's experiment with rice instead of potatoes

Noun: experiment

it's an experiment. I call it "eggs Juliet" | we bought some ostrich meat as an experiment grab /græb/ Verb

if you grab something such as food or a drink, you take it from somewhere very quickly, especially because you are in a hurry

I'll just grab a quick coffee on my way to work | there's no time for lunch; I'll grab a sandwich at the station | can you grab me a coffee while I make a phone call? | she grabbed a tin of Coke on her way into the lecture habit /ˈhæbɪt/ Noun someone's habits are the things that they do regularly as part of their daily life my sleeping habits have changed since I came back to Europe | he's got some very annoying habits | children need to learn healthy eating habits | he has a habit of singing to himself in the bath health /helθ/ Noun uncount your health is the condition of your body. If you are in good health, you are well, and you can also say that you are healthy. If you are in bad health, you are ill

Collocates: be in good/bad/poor health the report looked at areas like health and education |

© 2016 National Geographic Learning

you're lucky you still have your health (that you are still well and fit) | she was in very good health | I've been in poor health recently | he had to retire because of ill health | her health soon improved once the weather was warmer

Adjective: healthy

I won't mind getting old so long as I stay healthy | he's always been healthy and active | a healthy diet (food that will help you stay healthy) | include /ɪnˈkluːd/ Verb if one thing includes another, the second thing is a part of the first thing breakfast includes tea or strong coffee among other things | the price includes flight, hotel, and all meals | the injured people included a number of children | club members typically include doctors, teachers, and accountants | the concert included two pieces by Beethoven lifestyle /ˈlaɪfˌstaɪl/ Noun someone's lifestyle is the way they live, the things they do for work and pleasure, the way they spend their money, etc.

Collocates: a healthy lifestyle | a simple lifestyle | an active lifestyle people's lifestyles are too busy these days | we lived a simple lifestyle out in the country | his lifestyle hasn't changed since he got his new job | our job is to encourage a healthy lifestyle for our customers link /lɪŋk/ Verb

if one thing is linked to another, or if two things are linked, there is a strong connection between them

Collocates: link something to something cigarettes are strongly linked to cancer | coffee has been linked to other health problems | the two facts are directly linked

Noun: link

Collocates: a link between things the police have discovered a link between the two cases | the link between smoking and cancer mixture /ˈmɪkstʃə(r)/ Noun a mixture of different things is a lot of them all together

Collocates: a mixture of something a mixture of fried rice and black beans | a strange mixture of old and modern paintings | a mixture of different musical styles | bread is basically a mixture of flour and water that is then baked | stir the mixture of oil and vinegar for a minute

Verb: mix | Noun: mix

if you mix yellow and blue you get green | a mix of pop and classical music open /ˈəʊpən/ Adjective if you are open to something new, you are very willing to consider it or try it

Collocates: be open to something

I'm always open to trying new things | there's been no final decision yet, and we're still open to suggestions | if you want to buy it, we're open to offers proper /ˈprɒpə(r)/ Adjective something that is proper is correct, and is exactly how it is meant to be you should eat a proper meal, not this fast food | my father always said that being a musician isn't a proper job | you need to do a proper search of the house | the proper way to carry them is like this | make sure he gets proper medical treatment

Adverb: properly

the fish wasn't cooked properly | my phone isn't working properly secret /ˈsiːkrət/ Noun a secret is something that not very many people know about because people do not talk about it

Collocates: keep a secret many Bulgarians believe that the secret behind their long life is their yoghurt | I can't tell you any more – it's a secret | shall I tell you a secret? | can you keep a secret? (not tell anyone) | I finally discovered his secret

Adjective: secret

there's a secret door into the garden | this information is top secret (a very important secret)

serve /sɜː(r)v/ Verb when you serve food, you give it to someone on a plate ready for them to eat. When food is served in a restaurant, someone brings it to you it's usually served with chips and peas | salad is served as a side dish | I'm going to serve the soup with home-made bread | we were served by a very polite waiter

snack /snæk/ Noun a snack is a small amount of food that people eat that is not part of their regular meals

Collocates: have a snack do you eat any snacks between meals? | don't eat too many salty snacks | frequent sugary snacks do a lot of damage to teeth | fruit is a good snack food | I had a snack on the way home | a snack bar (place where they sell snack food)

Verb: snack

Collocates: snack on something take water and something to snack on space /speɪs/ Noun uncount space is the area up in the sky and beyond, where the moon and stars are. A space station is a small building in space the first Korean astronaut took special kimchi with him to the international space station! | Yuri Gagarin was the first person in space | a journey into outer space (the area very far away from the Earth) | reaching Mars will be the next big thing in space exploration

stall /stɔːl/ Noun a stall is a table outside, for example in a market or on the street, where people sell things there are stalls on the street selling hot food | there are stalls selling antiques in the market | a market stall | I got this from a book stall

© 2016 National Geographic Learning

stomach /ˈstʌmək/ Noun your stomach is the part of your body where food goes when you eat it

Egyptians call the dish "a rock in the stomach" | don't take this medicine on an empty stomach (if you haven't eaten anything recently) | my stomach was rumbling (making a noise because I was hungry) | that seafood gave me an upset stomach (I was ill because of what I ate) traditional /trəˈdɪʃ(ə)nəl/ Adjective traditional beliefs, activities, etc. have existed for a long time and have not changed or become more modern

I like a traditional English breakfast when I'm on holiday | our furniture is made by hand in the traditional way | this was the traditional method of catching fish | a group performing traditional Polish dances | the restaurant serves traditional Chinese dishes

Noun: tradition | Adverb: traditionally

it's a tradition to have candles on a birthday cake | singing is an important tradition in Wales | they are traditionally served with eggs | the dancers were traditionally dressed in red and blue typical /ˈtɪpɪk(ə)l/ Adjective something that is typical is usual and has the same features as other things of the same kind what's a typical breakfast in your country? | it was a typical English summer, with rain every week | my typical day starts at 7 when the alarm clock goes off | they lived in a typical town house | the menu had plenty of typical Greek dishes

Adverb: typically class sizes are typically around 18 to 20 students | large sea battles typically involved hundreds of ships

Pages 40–41

ban /bæn/ Verb if someone in authority bans something, they do not allow it. If they ban someone from doing something, they do not allow them to do it

Collocates: ban someone from doing something durians are banned from some hotels | my parents banned me from playing video games | all passenger flights have been banned in the war zone | cigarette advertising was banned years ago | he was banned from driving for two years

Noun: ban | Adjective: banned

the public smoking ban was introduced in 2007 | two cyclists tested positive for banned substances (had taken drugs)

remove /rɪˈmuːv/ Verb if you remove something, you take it away from where it is it's difficult to remove the smell | the police removed some cars from the main shopping street | he had an operation to remove a lump from his leg | you should remove the curtains before painting the window | cut the fruit in half and remove the stone

Noun: removal removal of the seat cover is quite easy spread /spred/ Verb if something spreads, it moves or grows and affects a larger area

Collocates: spread through an area | spread to somewhere the smell can spread all across the hotel | unfortunately, the cancer continued to spread | the fire spread quickly through the farm buildings | the fighting spread to nearby villages

Noun: spread

Collocates: the spread of something closing the border won't stop the spread of the disease | the spread of communism that followed the Second World War

© 2016 National Geographic Learning

EXERCISES

PREPOSITIONS

A Complete the sentences with the correct preposition.

1 I ordered a medium portion ..... chips.
2 Do you have a recipe ..... chocolate cake?
3 Curry is too spicy ..... me.
4 My breakfast consists ..... cereal and coffee.
5 The fish is served ..... chips or rice.
6 The service charge is included ..... the bill.

B Choose the correct preposition.

1 The menu has a good choice in / of vegetarian food.
2 You should complain for / about the prices.
3 He refused their offer of / about lunch.
4 I made a request of / for information about the restaurant.
5 She put a jug of / with milk on the table.
6 I began to experiment at / with different types of cheese.

WORD FAMILIES

C Complete the expressions with the correct form of the word in bold.

1 an excellent choice	I think you ..... an excellent restaurant.
2 fresh-roasted coffee	Let's ..... some lamb for dinner.
3 a grilled fish	You can fry it or ..... it.
4 complain to the manager	I'd like to make a .....
5 book a table	Do you have a ....., Sir?

D Tick the words which are both a noun and a verb.

1 ban .....
2 spread .....
3 serve .....
4 include .....
5 link .....
6 snack .....
7 suggest .....
8 offer .....

COLLOCATIONS

E Complete the sentences with the correct form of the verbs in the box.

keep	pay	complain	make	leave	book

1 You have to ..... a table at that restaurant.
2 Can you ..... a secret?
3 I ..... a 20% tip.
4 One table ..... about the service.
5 I forgot to ..... the electricity bill.
6 Excuse me. Can I ..... a suggestion?

F Complete the missing adjectives. Look up the nouns if you need help.

1 All the desserts were d_ _ _ _ _ _ _s.
2 A tin of b_ _ _d beans.
3 We left a g_ _ _ _ _ _s tip.
4 Wipe the table with a d_ _ p cloth.
5 Let's add some m_ _ _d herbs to the stew.
6 It's important to have a h_ _ _ _ _y lifestyle.

G Which nouns do NOT collocate with the adjectives?

1 raw	meat / fish / stone / egg
2 spicy	sauce / link / food / curry
3 soft	shell / pillow / fruit / potatoes
4 delicious	smell / dessert / meal / terrace
5 rude	waiter / meat / child / person

PATTERNS

H Put the verb in brackets in the correct form (to + infinitive or -ing). Look up the word in bold if you need help.

1 My parents banned me from ..... video games. (play) 2 The waiter asked if I was ready ..... (order) 3 He offered ..... us round the city. (show) 4 The pilot requested permission ..... (land)

© 2016 National Geographic Learning