

Narrator: Unit Seven Test.

Example. Jake.

Jake: I'm in big trouble! Our teacher asked us to hand the project in today – and I haven't even started it! I completely forgot!

Narrator: Speaker 1. Samantha.

Samantha: My mum will be so angry with me because I've lost my phone again and she's only just bought me a new one. I'm sure it was in my school bag this morning so perhaps it fell out when I was on the bus. I don't know what I'm going to do as I can't live without it.

Narrator: Speaker 2. Mark.

Mark: We got our exam results this morning and I didn't pass my Maths exam so I'm going to have to take it again. I'm really annoyed because I thought I'd done OK. It's never been my favourite subject but I really didn't think I'd do so badly.

Narrator: Speaker 3. Ben.

Ben: There's a school trip to France in the holidays but Mum and Dad won't let me go because they haven't got enough money, so I'll have to work and save some money for next year. I can understand it – but it's disappointing.

Narrator: Speaker 4. Janine.

Janine: Well, I was at school, in my History class, and all I was doing was checking my text messages on my mobile – when my teacher came up behind me. He took away my phone and now I've got to stay late after class. It's not fair!

Narrator: Speaker 5. Karen.

Karen: My best friend's having a big celebration for her birthday tomorrow. It's going to be great fun – except that I'm stuck here in bed with a really awful cold. There's no way I can go. I'll just have to lie here and think about everyone else having fun, I guess.
