

Narrator: Mid-year Progress Test.

Martin: Hey, Amanda. You're back! It's great to see you. So how was your trip?

Amanda: Oh, it was amazing, Martin. I don't think we've ever been on such a well-organised holiday before. As you know, South Africa has been top of my family's list of places to visit for ages.

Martin: Yeah. It's an incredible country, isn't it? I went with my family about two years ago.

Amanda: Oh, did you? Well, we flew to Cape Town and as we didn't have much time, we just went on a guided tour of the Waterfront and some of the historical buildings in the city.

Martin: Did you get out on the water at all? ... I mean, I remember the sea is fantastic there.

Amanda: Yes, we went out on a sailing boat... got some stunning photos of the sea – and the fish! They were incredible.

Martin: Wow, that sounds great. And did you manage to do any trekking or climbing?

Amanda: Both actually, but I didn't enjoy the climbing that much. I'd never done it before.

Martin: So, what was the best bit then?

Amanda: Oh, definitely the safari. We got to see so many animals – all the ones I hoped to see, and some others I didn't expect!

Martin: Wow, you went on a safari as well? Is there anything you didn't do while you were there?

Amanda: Ha ha. Well, we didn't manage to go skiing in the snow ...

Martin: Yes, very funny. So, what's your next trip?

Amanda: Well, actually, I'm going on a school exchange. I want to go to Germany with the school.

Martin: Really? I'm going on that trip.

Amanda: Great!
