Once there was a
poor boy called Aladdin. He lived in the city of Agrabah.

Aladdin dreamed of a better life.

The Sultan of Agrabah had a beautiful daughter called Jasmine.

The Sultan told Jasmine that she must marry a prince.

But Jasmine didn't want to get married.

She ran off into the market.

There she met Aladdin. But the palace guards took Aladdin to Jafar.

Jafar was the Sultan's adviser.

He took Aladdin
to a cave.

Inside the cave,
Aladdin found a
magic carpet and an old lamp.

He picked up the lamp and rubbed it.

He gave Aladdin
three wishes.

“I wish to be a prince,” said
Aladdin.

A genie
appeared.

Aladdin took Jasmine for a ride
on the magic carpet.

But Jafar threw him into the sea. The
genie saved him.

Jafar wanted
to marry Jasmine.

He stole Aladdin's
magic lamp.

Jafar rubbed the lamp and the genie
appeared.

“I wish to be a sorcerer,” said Jafar.

Jafar turned himself
into a snake and fought Aladdin.

“Now I wish to be a
genie,” said Jafar.

Jafar was trapped forever. Like all genies, he became a prisoner in a lamp.

Jasmine told the Sultan that she wanted to marry Aladdin.

With his last wish, Aladdin set the
genie free.

Read it yourself is a series of graded readers designed to give young children a confident and successful start to reading.

Level 1 is suitable for children who are making their first attempts at reading. The stories are told in a very simple way using a small number of frequently repeated words. The sentences on each page are closely supported by pictures to help with reading, and to offer lively details to talk about.

About this book

The pictures in this book are designed to encourage children to talk about the story. After a discussion of the pictures, children can listen to an adult read the story or attempt to read it themselves. Unknown words can be worked out by looking at the beginning letter (what sound does this letter make?), and deciding which word would make sense. Beginner readers need plenty of encouragement.
